

Editorial

Prof. Dhanraj T. Dhangar,
Asst. Professor,
Deptt. of Marathi,
Maharaja Sayajirao Gaikwad College,
Malegaon Camp, Dist- Nashik [M.S.] India

Dear Readers!

Hello and welcome to all of you on our most famous Multidisciplinary International E-Research Journals, Research Journey's web portal. I feel happy to declare that research journey has completed two years successfully.

In this issue there are included nine different articles first two articles are belonged to Marathi language and literature. One article is belonged to political science, one from Zoology department, one from Geography, one from Education and last three articles are belonged Hindi language literature and folk culture. In the first article Dr. M. S. Pagare and prof. Dhanraj. T. Dhangar criticized 'haripath' by saint Ekanath they have evaluated 'haripath' on the principles of humanism. In a next article Dr. Shirish Patil, Dean Arts and Humanism, North Maharashtra University Jalgaon has researched on Marathi language and the Dialects of Marathi Dr. Patil has explained the significant role of Dialects for nurture the culture and language. Prof. Manish Sonawane has criticized the result of election Maharashtra Legislative Assembly 2014, with special reference of Jalgaon District. He has shown the impact of cast, creed and religion on the result of Election. In the next article Dr. Bharambe C.M. and Ms. Swapna Patil have researched on impact of bat guano on degradation of water pollutions in Purna River in Buldhana District, M.S. (India). It is one of the best papers of this issue. In the next paper Prof. G. M. Khekade has researched on trainee teacher's social intelligence and emotional intelligence he has found co-relation between both of them Dr. Kailas V. Nikhade has written his paper on Sea level Changes. He found the impact of global warming on environment. Dr. Rekha Gajare has criticized Hindi Gazals. She focused on social aspects of Gazals. Dr. Jayashri Gavit, has shown the importance of Dance, especially folk dance in the life of aborigine culture. Dr. Swati Narkhede has written her paper on Bhagwandas Morwals novel 'Ret' in Hindi language. She has criticized this novel by feminists view as well as on the principles of Marxism.

All the papers of this issue are not only knowledgeable in their subjects but thought-provoking and cater the needs of the society. I congratulate all the authors of the research articles who contributed their ideas, views in this issue. Naturally, the perfection is not a state but the dynamic process and in that process we need your valuable suggestions /comments to make this journal more unique one.

With best wishes

Happy reading!

- Guest Editor